

NEW JERSEY PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BASICS

- You have the right to appeal your taxes every single year.
- The relevant date for purposes of valuing a property is October 1 of the pretax year. (i.e. if you are filing a tax appeal for 2021, the relevant valuation date is October 1, 2020)
- The deadline for filing a tax appeal in most counties is April 1.*
- The filing deadline is usually extended to May 1 in any year that a town performs a revaluation of all properties in setting the October 1 property assessment.
- One way to evaluate whether a property is over-assessed is to gather evidence of sales of properties similar to the property in question. This information can often be obtained by the taxpayer from a local realtor. (The sales used, however, cannot be the result of foreclosure, bankruptcy, or estate liquidation; the sales must have been the result of open-market, arms-length transactions.)
- Another way to prove that a property is over-assessed is with an appraisal report or, in the case of a commercial property, with an income and expense analysis.
- The purchase price of the property, if the purchase occurred within the past few years, may also provide evidence of value.
- The Court may consider evidence of sales of comparable properties during the year prior to the valuation date. (i.e. if you are filing a tax appeal for 2021, the Court may consider evidence of comparable sales that closed between October 1, 2019 and October 1, 2020)
- Towns annually mail taxpayers a notice of assessment card, usually on or about February 1 of the relevant tax year, or October 1 in Burlington, Gloucester, and Monmouth Counties reflecting the current assessed value of the property.
- If we succeed in obtaining a reduction in your taxes, the town will issue a refund or credit for any overpayment of taxes related to such reduction.
